Anna is listed in the 1770 mantalslangd as daughter of Svenning Andersson of Fahn. She was from Fahn when she married Lars Olofsson in 1776. Age at death is probably wrong. Unfortunately her birth was not recorded in the parish register of Svarteberg. She was probably born 1755-59. Temple work done as born 1753.

Previous research had Anna Svenningsdotter as the mother of Anna Svenningsdotter. This was an error. When her brother, Hans was born in 1754, the minister recorded the mother's name as Anna Svenningsdotter but the father Svenning Andersson, married Mari Mansdotter in 1754 and she didn't die until 1765. Tax lists show that there was only one man named Svenning Andersson living in Fahn village in Svarteberg during this time. The minister probably just got mixed up and recorded Svenning Andersson's mother's name instead of his wife's name.

Parish Register of Mo (FHL # 131349) deaths 1797 pg 405. She died at age 44 of pneumonia or influenza.

Flyttningsattester (moving certificates) of Mo Parish (FHL # 131346) Certificate for Anna Svenningsdotter: "Young wife Anna Svenningsdotter born in Fahn and Svarteberg Parish, 19 years old, married in Svarteberg church 1 January 1776 to farmhand Lars Olsson from Lundane and Mo parish". This source helps us figure her birth year more correctly as she moved to Mo after her marriage and she was 19 at the time making her born in 1756.

She was age 30 at death in 1765 but this would make her born 1735. Mans had a daughter, Anna born 1735 who died the next year. Her age at death is therefore probably wrong. When Hans was born in 1754, the minister recorded the mother's name as Anna Svenningsdotter but the father Svenning Andersson, married Mari Mansdotter in 1754 and she didn't die until 1765. Tax lists show that there was only one man named Svenning Andersson living in Fahn village in Svarteborg during this time. The minister probably just got mixed up and recorded Svenning Andersson's mother's name instead of his wife's name.

Parish Register of Svarteberg (FHL # 132708) DEATHS: 1801. She was age 74 at death and died of pneumonia or pleurisy.

There were 2 girls named Marta Olsdotter who married around the same time in HÆby parish: Marta Olsdotter from Lerberg married 12 June 1748 to Anders Hansson from LÆgum and Marta Olsdotter from Lerberg married 3 December 1749 to Erik ...kesson from LerÆker. There were 4 men named Olof living in Lerberg at this time: Oluf Modahl, Oluf Jonsson, Oluf PÆrsson, and Oluf Andersson. In searching the birth records the only one of these men to have a daughter named Marta in the christenings of HÆby 1723-41 was Oluf Jonsson. His Marta was born 23 April 1732. Evidence indicates however, that she was the Marta that married Erik ...kesson and would therefore not be the relative.

Marta Olsdotter's name is too common and there is not enough information to extend this line. It is likely her christening was omitted or that she was not born in Lerberg, HÆby but just moved there and worked there prior to her marriage. The family of Oluf Jonsson has been submitted for temple work anyway. See MRIN 1835.

His parents' names were given in the marriage entries as Amund Svenningsson and Kirstin Larsdotter.

Previous research had his mother as Helgia Aslagsdotter. This information came from the marriage of his brother, Oluf, in 1712. The parents of Oluf were given as Amund Svenningsson and Helgia Aslagsdotter. In further research, it was learned that Amund Svenningsson's mother was Helgia Aslagsdotter (and not his wife). The minister probably just made the mistake of recording Amund's mother's name rather than his wife's name when Oluf was married.

Kirstin Larsdotter lived until 1718 and so Aslag's father only had the one wife. Aslag's father died just 2 and 1/2 years after his wife, Kirstin Larsdotter.

Helgia Aslagsdotter was the mother of his father, Amund Svenungsson and it appears that the minister wrote his grandmother's name rather than his mother's name.

His parents' names were given in the marriage entries as Amund Svenningsson and Kirstin Larsdotter.

Previous research had his mother as Helgia Aslagsdotter. This information came from the marriage of his brother, Oluf, in 1712. The parents of Oluf were given as Amund Svenningsson and Helgia Aslagsdotter. In further research, it was learned that Amund Svenningsson's mother was Helgia Aslagsdotter (and not his wife). The minister probably just made the mistake of recording Amund's mother's name rather than his wife's name when Oluf was married.

Kirstin Larsdotter lived until 1718 and so Aslag's father only had the one wife. Aslag's father died just 2 and 1/2 years after his wife, Kirstin Larsdotter.

Amund Svenungsson, however, was married to Kirstin Larsdotter and Kirstin didn't die until 1718. It appears that the minister wrote the wrong name down for his mother. Helgia Aslagsdotter was the mother of his father, Amund Svenungsson and it appears that the minister wrote his grandmother's name rather than his mother's name.
